

RE: Antal Sakac

To whom it may concern:

This young man was examined in my office today for severe neurological disabilities secondary to a viral encephalitis and probably Lyme Disease which he contracted in 1990. Medical authorities in California, at one time considered Antal "brain dead" and in a chronic vegetative state. His father, Istvan, at that time refused to accept such a harsh diagnosis and instead took his son home to care for him by himself.

This 38 year old man is approximately 5'11" tall and 190 pounds. He presents by video with potential for improvement.

Single handedly, Istvan has cared for his son's rehabilitation in such a positive manner over the last 28 years and doing an excellent job in his care. Istvan is adamant that he has seen improvement in his son. Antal, is showing improvement in upper and lower limbs as well as speech. Istvan reports on good days he is able to ambulate with the assistance of his bilateral leg braces up to one half block in distance. His upright standing tolerance is also increasing and this is important to the overall health of his spine and skeletal structure.

His current bracing is not adequate. There is such a poor fit as these braces were made several years ago. He is in need of new orthopedic shoes, also.

I am enclosing a work order with the appropriate L-codes and billing at the normal Medicare fee schedule. I hope this information has been helpful.

Sincerely,

Dave Denham MS ATC CO
